The new fee structure is calculated as follows. This was proposed by the members at the AGM instead of membership classes:

Minum annual fee is 200,- € for regular members, plus 1,5 € per Member rounded up to 100 except Germany (they have a federal structure) and the Netherlends (all members of the forest society are not participating in Pro Silva).

The countries Bulgaria, Estonia, Finland, Norway, Poland and USA did not pay the last years. If they want to stay as regular members they have to pay a minimum of 50,- € per year or they will be treated as associate members.

Associated Membership:

Associate members are individual persons or associations that have a strong interest and commitment in the work of "Pro Silva". They agree to establish an association in their country, in which the constitution is a set of fundamental Pro Silva principles. They are not allowed or licensed to use the trademark of Pro Silva. If, after a matter of time, they fulfill the regulations to incorporate the Pro Silva principles in their constitution and can demonstrate their commitment to these principles, they may become regular members of the association (within 1-3 years). Associate members pay no membership fee and have no vote at the general meeting; they participate as guests until elected as full members. The Executive Board have authority to provide financial support of these organisation.
